McGovern Picks Up Endorsements

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Edmund S. Muskie retired from active campaigning, George McGovern has picked up more endorsements for the Democratic presidential race that appears to have narrowed to a battle with Hubert H. Humphrey.

After Muskie quit the primaries race Thursday, Sen. Fred Harris, himself a former candidate for the nomination, cast his lot with McGovern. Harris previously had been uncommitted.

Cliff Larson, Democratic chairman in Iowa and a backer of Muskie, announced he was switching support to McGovern but retaining the right to return to Muskie, depending on what happens at the Miami Beach convention.

And sources in the McGovern camp said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., who has stayed out of the battle, would endorse McGovern today. It was Ribicoff who nominated McGovern at the 1968 Chicago convention.

McGovern, meanwhile, said he plans to actively seek the support of organized labor and of the Democratic party leadership, despite the urging of some of his backers.

He told The Washington Post in an interview: "I think I've got the skill and the common sense to quiet the fears of those people and bring them on board at some point ...

"As we move along and time permits, I'll be calling on the party leaders in many states," McGovern said. "I think that's the best way I can answer their anxiety about what I want to work with them."

Muskie and Humphrey have been shunned by organized labor's supporters.

PRESIDENT'S MAN in Vietnam during the Communist offensive, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Haig heads a five-man team including State and Defense Department representatives charged with making an on-the-spot assessment of the situation. Quang Tri Defense Lines Are Smashed SAIGON (AP) — Troops of four North Vietnamese divisions spearheaded by large columns of tanks smashed through South Vietnam's northernmost defense line today and sent government forces reeling toward Quang Tri.

Dong Ha, eastern anchor of the defense line, was overrun in the eight-mile enemy advance. That is the distance between Dong Ha and Quang Tri, first major objective of the northern offensive. The enemy is now at its outskirts.

Two bases southwest of Quang Tri were abandoned under heavy North Vietnamese shell fire, amounting to 10,000 rounds in the past two days of the renewed enemy offensive.

The United States threw the bulk of its air and naval power into the battle in efforts to avert the fall of Quang Tri, 19 miles below the demilitarized zone.

AP correspondent Holger Jensen reported from Hue that U.S. planes and helicopter gunships bombed and rocketed North Vietnamese tanks on two sides of Quang Tri.

At least 11 tanks were reportedly knocked out and two U.S. aircraft were lost. In a dramatic air to ground battle with the tanks, two crewmen of a rocket-firing Cobra gunship died after knocking out three tanks.

U.S. 7th Fleet destroyers poured 10,000 rounds of gunfire into the Dong Ha area alone after South Vietnamese troops fell back.

An Air Force F4 Phantom jet was hit by a surface-to-air missile east of Quang Tri, but the two crewmen parachuted into the South China Sea and a helicopter rescued them.

A LONG, LONG TRAIL to safety is followed by these refugees fleeing the Quang Tri battle in South Vietnam. It appears that mama shoulders the heaviest but most precious load.

Kleindienst Past Big Hurdle

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard G. Kleindienst has overcome perhaps the biggest hurdle, winning Senate Judiciary Committee approval in his bid to become attorney general. But he faces yet another roadblock before the full Senate.

The Judiciary Committee Thursday reaffirmed its confirmation of the Kleindienst nomination after a two-month investigation of alleged Justice Department improprieties in the settlement of an antitrust suit against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Liberal Democrats on the committee, defeated in their attempt to continue the hearings, said they would fight the Kleindienst nomination when it reaches the floor, probably several weeks from now.

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., an opponent of the nomination, said he favors full discussion of the issues before the full Senate, but added that he does not believe the debate will become a filibuster.

Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., another who voted against the committee majority, said: "We do not have a complete record, and it would be unfair to Mr. Kleindienst and the Senate to base a decision upon the present contradictory and totally inadequate record."

Committee members have until May 5 to submit their reports to the Senate.

The 11-4 vote to report the nomination favorably came after a day's session in which Kleindienst was recalled as a witness. Little he said cleared up any of the contradictions in the record.

Kleindienst said he did not recall details of conversations with Peter M. Flanigan, senior adviser to President Nixon, in which the ITT settlement was discussed.

He said Flanigan, Nixon's liaison man with business, might have told him a month before the settlement that ITT was unhappy with its terms but he could not remember.

"It was so insignificant, so immaterial and inconsistent with the posture I was assuming in this case, it just didn't stick in my mind," said Kleindienst.

He had previously testified, and repeated Thursday, that he had taken the position that Richard J. McLaren, then head of the antitrust division, would handle the case by himself.

On Feb. 29, the committee voted unanimously after two days of hearings to approve the Kleindienst nomination. That same day, syndicated columnist Jack Anderson published a memo linking settlement of the antitrust case with ITT's financial commitment to help San Diego obtain this summer's Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst denied the allegations immediately and asked that the committee reopen the hearings to enable him to answer the charges and clear away the cloud over his nomination. He repeated his denial Thursday.

Showers Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shower activity was expected to end in the western portion of the state late today and the remainder of the state Saturday as a slow moving cold front passes out of the area.

The National Weather Service said a low was centered early today over northeastern Kansas with the cold front extending southward through eastern Oklahoma and northeastern Texas.

The front has caused scattered showers over the state for the past day or so but none of the reporting stations has recorded any large amounts of rainfall.

Temperatures were expected to continue mild today and tonight with somewhat higher readings Saturday as sunshine returns to the Arkansas weather picture.

Highs Thursday ranged from 63 at Texarkana to 74 at Jonesboro.

Overnight lows included 52 at Fayetteville, 55 at Harrison, 59 at Jonesboro, 59 at Pine Bluff, 57 at Texarkana, 58 at El Dorado, 61 at Memphis, 54 at Little Rock and 55 at Fort Smith.

Injuries Fatal to Two

WALDRON, Ark. (AP) — Two Waldron youths were killed and two others injured Thursday night in a one-vehicle accident nine miles west of Waldron on Arkansas 28.

State Police said Mark C. Lawson, 17, and James E. Clayton, 18, were killed and James E. Moore, 22, and Paul E. Moore, 19, were injured in the crash.

Officers said the four were in a pickup truck driven by Lawson that went out of control at a high speed and struck a bridge abutment.

Moon Heroes to Hawaii

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (AP) — Apollo 16's moon heroes steamed toward Hawaii today after completing man's fifth moon-landing expedition, a journey that commander John W. Young said pushed back "the last real frontier, the frontier of the unknown."

Young and fellow crewmen Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II, were deposited on the deck of this carrier Thursday after a pinpoint splashdown in the South Pacific.

During welcoming ceremonies, Young said the mission was one of discovery that had uncovered basic knowledge. Pushing back the "frontier of the unknown," he said, is "essential to the survival of humanity on this planet."

President Nixon telephoned congratulations, promoting Duke to the rank of Air Force colonel and Mattingly to commander in the Navy. Young, a Navy captain, was promoted after one of his three earlier space missions.

All three were in excellent health after their 11-day journey.

The landing was 1,500 miles south of Hawaii, and the astronauts will stay aboard until the Ticonderoga moves early Saturday to within plane range of Hawaii.

They'll fly into Hickam Air Force Base at 2 p.m. EST and transfer to a C-141 jet transport for the 8½-hour flight to the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Scientists and geologists at the center's Lunar Receiving Laboratory eagerly await the 245 pounds of rock and soil samples gathered by Young and Duke during 71 hours in the moon's Descartes Mountains.

Most experts, and the astronauts themselves, feel that locked in some of the rocks is evidence that the moon long ago was wracked by volcanoes, and that these eruptions played a major role in that planet's formative years between 4 billion and 4.5 billion years ago.

The Apollo 16 command ship Casper ended 1.2 million miles of travel and America's 28th man-in-space flight Thursday when it blazed back through earth's atmosphere.

Gillham Dam Case Argued

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Testimony was to continue here today before U. S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele on the controversial Gillham Dam project on the Cossatot River in southwest Arkansas.

Testimony, which ran into the evening Thursday, was expected to last most of today.

Environmentalists who oppose the Army Engineers' project argued Thursday that the Engineers deliberately had misrepresented facts in their environmental impact statement concerning the project.

Attorneys for the Engineers contended, however, that the statement had met all the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and that the year-old injunction barring construction on the project should be lifted.

Eisele issued the work-stoppage order in February 1971 on ground that the environmental impact statement prepared by the Engineers did not sufficiently examine all the possible environmental ramifications of the project as required by NEPA. The Engineers filed a revised, 12-pound statement last January and asked that the injunction be lifted.

Wellborn Jack Jr. of Shreveport, La., an attorney for the plaintiffs, contended Thursday the Engineers have violated procedural requirements of the act as well as other provisions. Jack contended that the Engineers had not complied with procedural guidelines issued by the Council on Environmental Quality, which requires that all adverse effects of a project be detailed, that all objections be noted and that all possible combination of alternatives be considered.

The Engineers "deliberately and consciously presented a biased, slanted and nonobjective view of the project" in their environmental impact statement, Jack said. He said the facts surrounding the project have been "juggled around in an effort to make Gillham Dam look good."

Witnesses who appeared Thursday for the plaintiffs testified that the Engineers' revised statement had:

— Misrepresented the position of the state Committee on Stream Preservation on whether the Cossatot should be made a national river.

— Reprinted a favorable article about another Engineers' flood control project and falsely equated it to the Cossatot project.

— Falsely stated that canoeing conditions below the proposed dam would be improved after the project was completed.

— Virtually disregarded information that an official of the federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation had recommended the Cossatot for consideration as a national river.

Stuart Schoenberg, a Justice Department lawyer, represented the defendants, and argued that the plaintiffs were using the same arguments that they had in the 1971 hearings of the suit and that any further testimony would be irrelevant and repetitious.

Brandt Fails in Strength Test

By ANTHONY COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundestag deadlocked today as Chancellor Willy Brandt failed to win a test-of-strength vote. The 247-vote tie with one abstention deepened the crisis for the Socialist chancellor, and his 2½-year-old regime.

The vote on the budget for the chancellor's office, coupled with the failure Thursday of an opposition motion of no-confidence in Brandt, demonstrated that at present neither the Socialist chancellor nor his conservative opponents in the Christian Democrats party can muster a majority of the 496 members in the lower house of parliament.

In the debate before the vote, Brandt called on the Christian Democrats to help adopt his legislative program and raised the possibility of a general election if deadlock paralyzed the government. He said he was ready to talk about going to the voters if his "capability of action" cannot be assured otherwise.

Immediately after the set-back, Brandt told parliament "The federal government regrets that its draft legislation could not be approved because of this tie."

"I now request the support of this house on the third reading" of the proposed budget for running his chancellor's office.

This is the final reading. The date for the third reading was to be fixed later.

Time to Change

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time marches on a little faster this Sunday when most of the nation reverts to Daylight Saving Time. Clocks are to be advanced one hour at 2 a.m.

Congress has decreed that Daylight Saving Time begin on the last Sunday in April and Standard Time on the final Sunday of October.

Hawaii, Arizona, Michigan and the eastern portion of Indiana will remain on Standard Time. The federal Uniform Time Act has left it to the legislatures in states with more than one time zone—Utah, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oregon and Texas—to exempt all of any portion in a second zone from a time change.

"The only reason he didn't get behind it before was because it was a lengthy process (to get states' ratification)," Mrs. McCabe said.

"We're going to remind him it took only 90 days to pass the 18-year-old vote."

A second rally will be held Saturday, and Mrs. McCabe and others urged the small crowd Thursday to return with neighbors and relatives to illustrate the depth of antibusing sentiment.

One march official had predicted a crowd of 20,000 for Thursday, but only about 2,000 came.

After the hike from her Pontiac home, Mrs. McCabe said, "I personally suffered a great deal of pain on the march," surpassed only by pains of childbirth.

But through the march, she

Specifically, she's counting on enough of her busing opponents to knock on congressmen's doors to persuade at least 60 more to sign a petition discharging a proposed constitutional ban on busing from a hostile Judiciary Committee.

With a visit this afternoon to President Nixon's domestic-affairs adviser, John B. Ehrlichman, she hoped to prod the President to reverse himself and endorse the proposed amendment.

"The President isn't really tricky," the Michigan housewife said at a rally Thursday.

Anti-Busing Walk Completed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tanned, limping Irene McCabe says she hopes her 650-mile march to Washington will give new life to anti-busing movements in Congress and the White House.

Specifically, she's counting on enough of her busing opponents to knock on congressmen's doors to persuade at least 60 more to sign a petition discharging a proposed constitutional ban on busing from a hostile Judiciary Committee.

HUD Awards Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a $29,100 grant to Hot Springs, the office of Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Thursday.

The funds will be used for developing water and sewage treatment facilities for the Cones Water Improvement District No. 15.

For Workers

Pay Board Untangles Red Tape

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board is steadily untangling a snarl of red tape that has delayed pay raises for hundreds of thousands of workers.

Its backlog of unsettled cases has declined by nearly half in the last two months, from 2,219 on Feb. 25 to 1,158 as of April 21, the board said Thursday.

The board's executive director, Robert Tiernan, said in an interview that even faster progress will be made in weeks to come.

Presently the board takes an average of 38 days to decide a case. Tiernan said that will be reduced to about 28 days within the next six weeks because the board has nearly completed drawing up detailed regulations and will begin turning its attention to individual cases.

Of 4,963 cases received so far, 2,112 didn't need any action by the Pay Board and were returned by the Internal Revenue Service with an explanation.

The cases involved fewer than 1,000 workers each, which generally don't require Pay Board action unless they are requests for exceptions to the board's 5.5-per-cent guideline.

The board has cleared its entire backlog of these cases, which now are handled mostly through the IRS.

The board also is whittling down its load of cases involving 1,000 to 5,000 workers. These generally don't require advance approval, and are merely reported to the board. However, the staff must review the reports for any violations.

There are 756 of these cases remaining for action, down from 887 a month earlier.

The most important cases involve more than 5,000 workers or nonunion construction pay settlements. These require advance clearance. The board is barely holding its own in this area. There are 402 cases backed up, about the same as a month ago.

With the departure of four union members from the board, and its subsequent transformation into an all-public, seven-member body, the board has set up a streamlined procedure for handling big cases.

Those that fall within guidelines, or meet requirements for standard exceptions, are reviewed by staff teams and approved by Chairman George H. Boldt.

Roughly three big cases in 10 require special treatment. They are submitted to a three-man subcommittee. If Boldt accepts the subcommittee's recommendation, the decision is final. If he doesn't, it goes before the board for a final decision.

Exceptionally tough cases, such as the roughly 15-per-cent wage and fringe increase won by East Coast dock workers, get public hearings before the full board. The dockers get their hearing May 2.

FIRST black member of the Federal Communications Commission, Judge Benjamin Hooks has been named to the regulatory agency by President Nixon. A former criminal court judge in Memphis, Tenn., he is also an ordained Baptist minister. The FCC post pays $38,000 per annum.

Apollo 17 to Be Most Exciting of Them All

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo flies only once more, before we leave the moon to the solitude of the ages. But Apollo 17 will be the big one, the most exciting of them all.

Armed with a new generation of instruments designed especially for the moon, Apollo 17 above all others will cross unknown frontiers, attempting to answer questions man has asked all through recorded history:

—Are gravitational waves, pounding across oceans of space from an early epoch of the universe, telling us when time began?

—Is the moon slowly fashioning an atmosphere and interacting with the solar winds to create the building blocks of future life?

—Under the bedrock of the frozen lunar interior, are there layers of ice that man can tap to make air and water for permanent bases on the moon?

"We'll have many, many answers," says Dr. Rocco Petrone, Apollo program director. "Not the final answers, no. But a far better understanding of it all."

Apollo 17, with astronauts Eugene Cernan, Ronald Evans and Dr. Harrison Schmitt aboard, departs for the moon Dec. 6.

This time, the target is Taurus-Littrow, a region of light-colored, steep-sided mountains and dark valleys that may be filled with explosion-produced volcanic ash. Flying over it, Apollo 15 command pilot Al Worden said he saw cinder cones, indicating the presence of volatiles, material that tends to erupt into violent action. Here, rocks may be found that were disgorged from deep within the moon.

But rocks take a back seat on this mission. The experiment that rouses scientists most is one called a surface gravimeter. On the quiet moon, it will detect waves of gravity that may have come across eons of time from the birthplace of the universe.

Dr. Joseph Weber, a University of Maryland physicist, has devised an instrument to operate on the moon where the slightest wave through an atmosphere 1,000 times more quiet than the earth will trigger a signal.

Radiothon for Cox Family

The Hope Lions Club will conduct a Radiothon on KXAR for the family of William Cox on Saturday, April 29, 12:30 to 4:00 p.m. Mr. Cox, a veteran of World War 2 served with distinction in the Invasion of Europe, was captured and was held by the Germans from August 1944 till April 1945 and was awarded several service medals including the Purple Heart.

Mr. Cox worked in the logging business before going to work for the State Hwy Dept. 1965. He was injured Jan. 25th when a train struck the large piece of heavy equipment he was moving to another job site. He has been hospitalized since that time and has been transferred to Texarkana and Little Rock for special care. His hospital expenses are being met by Workmans Compensation and he can be assisted further by the Veterans Administration. It is his family, however, that is in need of help. Mrs. William Cox was injured in an auto accident in 1965 and has not been able to work for some time. There is also a 15 year old son at home.

The Radiothon will help the family during this emergency and tide them over until he becomes eligible for Social Security Disability. The Coxes had started to repair a home in the south part of the county 1 mile off Hwy. 29. The hour of the Radiothon will be 12:30 to 4:00 p.m. Saturday, April 29, with the club members working the Mikes, The Phone, and calling on those who give contributions.

Coleman Was Fined in Fayetteville

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jack Coleman of McGeehee, a Democratic candidate for Congress in the 4th District, was fined in Fayetteville in 1967 on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and overdraft.

Officials said Thursday he still owes part of the fine.

The 27-year-old Coleman said in a prepared statement Thursday that his arrest Feb. 12, 1967, by Fayetteville and State Police officers was instigated by enemies he had made in a power struggle within the Young Democrats organization.

The statement referred to the charges as "trumped-up."

Municipal Court Clerk Richard McChristian of Fayetteville said his records reflect that Coleman was fined $100 for overdraft, $100 for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and $3 court costs. He said a charge of illegal sale of liquor was dismissed.

"He still owes $152 of the fine," McChristian said.

McChristian said the records showed that a commitment order was issued Oct. 27, 1967, to require Coleman to pay the remainder of the fine "but apparently it's been hard to serve it on him," McChristian said another commitment order was issued last February.

Coleman was employed outside Arkansas until he became one of the four candidates for the 4th District nomination.

Coleman said in an interview that he could not recall any charge except the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

This statement said: "A private birthday party was held in my campus home on a Saturday evening in January, 1967, which was attended by my friends — area business leaders and college students in Fayetteville.

"On that evening officials came to my home to arrest me on trumped-up charges," the statement said.

Coleman declined in the interview to name the person for whom the party was being held. He also declined to name the person or persons he blamed as investigators of the arrest. "I try to heal conflicts, not make them," he said.

He said, however, that the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor was only a technical one. A 20-year-old girl was present, but not drinking, while intoxicants were being served, Coleman said. "Technically, it violated the law," he said.

Coleman, who was 22 at the time of the arrest, was a University of Arkansas student sharing a house on U. S. 71-south.

Police Chief Hollis Spencer of Fayetteville said his records indicated the arrest was made at 12:10 a.m. on Feb. 12, a Sunday. He said he was ill and did not actually participate in the arrest.

Asked why police happened to go to the house, Spencer said, "Someone had reported to us that wild parties had been held there. We had information that a stripper from Tulsa was supposed to be there."

Spencer, when asked to name the source of that information, said, "That's confidential. We wouldn't be getting information if we said who our sources were."

'Heart Cocktail' Has Cut Death Rates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A special "cocktail" for the heart is cutting by half the death rate from a serious complication that often follows heart attacks, a Mexican physician said today.

The complication is a wild, uncontrolled beating of the heart, known as ventricular fibrillation.

The cause is an upset in the chemical balance within heart cells damaged by the heart attack, said Dr. Abdo Bisteni of the National Heart Institute of Mexico in Mexico City.

The "cocktail," given by vein, is designed to correct the imbalance or upset. It consists of glucose, which is a form of sugar, potassium and insulin.

Two quarts are given within 24 hours after a serious heart blockage. This treatment is combined with a low-sodium diet. Potassium leaks out of injured heart cells and sodium outside the cells enters, Bisteni said.

These two chemicals act as electrolytes to govern nerve and electrical signals. The upset in the natural ratio leads to the wild and often fatal heart-beat.

Among 250 heart patients treated with the fluids, the death rate was 6 per cent from fibrillation, Bisteni told the ninth Interamerican Congress of Cardiology.

In contrast, the death rate was 12 to 15 per cent among patients in coronary care centers elsewhere in Mexico City who received the most modern treatment but were not given the electrolyte mixture.

The glucose supplies energy to the damaged heart cells, while the insulin is used as a guide or conductor to take the potassium back into the damaged cells, Bisteni said.

Diets high in potassium were given to the Apollo 16 astronauts to prevent disturbance in their heart rhythms.

Bisteni said the fluid mixture is being administered to heart patients in some centers in the United States and Europe, but is still regarded as controversial by a number of heart specialists.

He said he thought one of its advantages is that it avoids possible undesirable effects that might accompany use of drugs to keep the heart beat regulated.

Gas Hearings in Progress

DALLAS (AP)—Oil executives and spokesmen from nature preservation groups resumed testimony today before a federal panel of the Environmental Protection Agency, which is hearing reaction to its proposed regulations for reducing the lead content of gasoline.

Regular grade gasoline now contains an average of 2.5 grams of lead per gallon. If the EPA rules are implemented, this would be sharply reduced and all producers would have to make available at least one grade of gasoline containing no lead or sulphur by July 1, 1974.

Makes Official Visit

Ray Donathan, Kiwanis Division 24, Mo Ark District, Lt. Governor of Hot Springs was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the local club. The Lt. Governor was making his official visit to the Hope Club and met with the Board of Directors following the regular noon meeting.

Mr. Donathan began his talk by asking a question, "What are we for?"

Kiwanis has something special to offer this community, but other organizations also have something to offer. Today we are faced with many problems and organizations such as Kiwanis are trying to find solutions to those problems.

What does Kiwanis have to offer in the way of answers? We build is the Kiwanis motto and the basis of its program, but it is only a partial answer. Where and when do we build? The place is where we are and the time is now. It is a matter of individual involvement.

Kiwanis International has a Theme and Objectives each year. This year's theme is "Unite for Progress", and there are four definite objectives, the primary one being Operation Drug Alert. The Lt. Governor reviewed some of the problems stemming from Drug Abuse and some of the things Kiwanis has done to deal with the problems.

To serve a community through Kiwanis is not a task, but a privilege and a joy.

Mrs. Phillip Manus appeared before the Kiwanis Club at its Tuesday meeting to outline the pressing need for funds to provide a facility for housing the School of Hope in a building adequate to meet the needs of this ministry to the mentally retarded. Present facilities limits the number of pupils to twelve children, and right now there are twenty seven on the waiting list. The proposed building which will require $10,000 in local financing will provide for forty pupils.

Vic Powell, son of Kiwanian Kenneth Powell, was the only guest.

Some years ago Hal Sims told a lady that she played bridge like a millionaire. The lady failed to realize that this was a dubious compliment.

South played today's hand like a millionaire also. He won the club lead and promptly drew trumps with three leads. Then he tried the spade finesse. It worked nicely and our millionaire looked around for some way to get to his hand. He did so by leading dummy's last trump. Then he repeated the spade finesse.

South wanted to get back to his hand for a third spade finesse but he had wasted his entries on rousing living. He had to lay down dummy's ace of spades and hope to drop the king. He failed and was forced to lead a diamond to his king.

West took his ace and later on the defense collected two more diamonds and a club. Our millionaire had given away game and rubber.

If South had been more careful with his wealth he could not afford that third trump lead. This way he would have had two entries to his own hand and would have been able to take the spade finesse for the third time in order to get rid of a club or diamond loser.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

How Right Is 'The Right'?

Dear Helen:
My doctor says that when married people grow in different directions, sometimes divorce is the only answer. After 20 years invested, surely there must be a better solution than this!

Helen, I'm married to a bigot! My husband is a hard-hat, right-wing, back-to-the-good-old-dayser. He watches "All in the Family" and cheers for Archie. What's more, half of his friends agree with him.

They feel threatened when I don't get upset by 1. "Modern depravity" (vastly exaggerated, say I). 2. The new morality (no worse than the "old," but considerably more honest and with fewer hang-ups). 3. Homosexuality between consenting adults (whose business is it but theirs?). 4. Sex education in schools (much needed!). 5. Long-haired boys. 6. Interracial friendships.

It's got so I clam up and seldom express an opinion because I know it will be the opposite of what my husband thinks...which is exactly what he thought 25 years ago. The children and I don't argue with him—he may even believe he's convinced us.

But what does a wife do when she is ready to explode because she's—MARRIED TO A "RIGHT" WHO IS WRONG

Dear Married:
Un-stifle yourself, for heavens sake!

You'd be surprised how many "good old daysers" have turned middle-of-the-road-liberal just through the clever ministrations of a wife and kids. This doesn't mean pistols at 20 paces, but a gradual education process, backed by the realization that men feel more threatened by change than do women.

I've an idea that even Archie Bunker might dip his toes into the 20th century if Edith unwrapped her brains. (But then we'd lose a great TV show.)

Anyhow, don't clam up at home on the supposition that "bigots never reform." Look back 25 years and remember that you felt THEN as your husband feels now. But you moved with the times. Give him a hand and perhaps he'll catch up with you. —H.

Dear Helen:

We women work in an office with a fellow who we hear is a homosexual, though he doesn't look it or act it. He's very interesting and intelligent. The young attractive married girls don't have to fight him off.

Because of the (probably authentic) rumor, he's not exactly an eligible bachelor. Yet he's been hanging around with us, just like "one of the gals." Granted, he's good company, but we're a little afraid to associate with him. Should we avoid him in the lunchroom and otherwise get him to flake off? — APPREHENSIVE

Dear AP:
Why not judge this man on his obvious merits: He's interesting, intelligent, good company, and no threat to husbands.

You can't "catch" homosexuality like the measles, so I'd guess your only fear is "office gossip." Don't you think he's been hurt by this enough already? Accept him as a friend. —H.

Dear Helen:
All my life I've scrimped, saved, shopped for bargains and done without, because things were rough and I was the "manager."

Now that I can finally afford clothes, trips to the beauty parlor, travel, etc. I can't let loose. I never entertained and don't know how. My car sits in the garage because I'm afraid to use it. I wear old clothes.

People think I'm tight because I don't know how to enjoy myself, though I want to badly. Can an old dog learn new tricks? — "CHEAP AGAINST MY WILL."

Dear Cheap:
You've made the first step by admitting your need for change. So now, make a giant step to a travel agency, plunk down an advance payment for a fabulous tour—and embark before you lose your nerve! Have a happy cure! —H.

U.S. Team Foiled

ROME (AP) — Ilie Nastase fought off a partisan crowd and a stubborn teen-age opponent to enter the fourth round of the Italian International Tennis championships, but the United States was foiled for the 12th straight year in its title bid.

While Nastase, seeded No. 2, survived second-set shouts from an angry crowd to oust Italy's 19-year-old idol, Corrado Barazzutti 6-2, 7-5, Tom Gorman of Seattle lost his third-round match to Andrew Pattison of Rhodesia.

Pattison scored a 5-7, 6-1, 6-4 triumph over the seventh-seeded Gorman, ending U.S. hopes for its first title since Barry McKay won in 1960.

Top-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., and Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., the only other Americans, were second-round victims of foreign opponents.

Smith's early demise added fuel to a feud between Nastase and No. 3 seed Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, which started with tourney officials before the tourney began.

Nastase and Kodes had threatened to boycott the tournament when Smith, winner of the U.S. Open and runner-up at Wimbledon last year, was seeded ahead of them.

Now Nastase says Kodes won't play him in the semifinals—if they reach that plateau.

"Jan told me he will not play against me in the semifinals to protest against the seedings," Nastase said. "This is his decision, and I have nothing more to say. I can tell you I'll play anyhow."

Half of Wednesday's scheduled matches were rained out, but not before No. 4 seed Manuel Orantes of Spain ousted Vladimir Zednik of Czechoslovakia 6-0, 6-4 and Alex Metkrevili of Russia beat Jairo Velasco of Colombia 7-5, 6-7, 7-5.

McCarthy to Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks hired Babe McCarthy, dean of American Basketball Association coaches, away from the hard-pressed Memphis Pros Thursday, replacing a void left when Tom Nissalke jumped to the Seattle SuperSonics of the National Basketball Association.

"We wanted a coach of proven ability in the professional ranks," said executive vice president Bob Briner.

McCarthy, the first coach to win 200 games in the ABA, said "Memphis is in a plight as far as its basketball situation is concerned but I wasn't running away. I've always had a desire to come to Dallas."

He said, "Memphis is a fine basketball town but it has a long struggle ahead."

McCarthy's old New Orleans Buccaneers were a powerhouse in the early seasons of the ABA. In the 1967-68 season, New Orleans came within one game of winning the league championship. McCarthy was named ABA Coach of the Year in 1968-69 after compiling a 46-32 record.

He was three times coach of the year in the Southeastern Conference when he was at Mississippi State.

Terms of McCarthy's contract were not announced but he said, "It's a multi-year contract."

Lakers Mull Over Formula to Defeat the Hot Knicks

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Question: "How do you beat the New York Knicks?"

Answer: "Make all your shots and hope for a tie."

At least that formula would have kept the Los Angeles Lakers in Wednesday night's opener of the best-of-seven series to decide the National Basketball Association championship.

The Knicks won 114-92, surprising the Lakers and themselves with their uncanny accuracy in the first half when the game was decided. Bill Bradley and Jerry Lucas led the assault as New York made 72 per cent of its first-half shots, many of them from beyond 20 feet.

The Lakers and their coach, Bill Sharman, studied game films Thursday in an effort to gain an edge for the rest of the series.

New York forward Dave DeBusschere said, however, that the Knicks cannot expect to shoot so well the rest of the series.

Taking DeBusschere's word for it, then, Los Angeles perhaps can work harder on the scouting report of K.C. Jones, assistant coach.

Thus Los Angeles is highly aware that:

—The Knicks play the best team defense in the league.

—New York center Jerry Lucas would try some long-range bombs to draw Wilt Chamberlain away from the backboards.

—The Knicks, offensively, run without the ball and hit the open man with good passes.

—Each player wearing a Knick uniform can shoot.

What Jones was saying Tuesday, the Lakers were thinking Thursday.

"If the New York offense is going to call for a little more concentration on our part," Jones had said, "they pick and pass so well."

"They play better defense, as a team than we do," he said. Statistics, which show the Knicks leading the league in that category, support the statement.

New York's diversified firepower with tight defense makes the Knicks a tougher team to beat than Milwaukee, Jones said. Despite the scoring of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the Lakers beat the defending champion Bucks in six games in their semifinal series.

"Against Milwaukee you've got to try to contain Jabbar," Jones said. "New York is a completely different club. We've got to work hard as well."

The Lakers lost their fast break in the opener, and it was easy to find the cause. With New York making baskets, there were no rebounds with which to get a running game under way.

"I think that (Jerry) West and Goodrich are more effective in a running game," said DeBusschere. "We were fortunate enough to shut it off."

BAD SPILL coming up? Hardly. A pair of Swiss ski acrobats demonstrate at Davos that what goes up, above, can still come down upright, sort of, below. Actually, it's harder than it looks.

Hope Star SFSC Hires New Coach

Travs Rained Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lyle Damon, a Reno, Nev. high school basketball coach, has been named head basketball coach at San Francisco State College.

The appointment of Damon, 34, coach at Hug High School, was announced Thursday night.

Damon replaced Jerry Waugh, who resigned about six weeks ago after leading San Francisco State to two consecutive Far Western Conference crowns.

During Damon's 11 years of high school coaching, his teams—at Hug and Storey County High School in Virginia City, Nev.—collected 192 victories and 34 losses.

Smith Was Unanimous

NEW YORK (AP) — Elmore Smith of the Buffalo Braves was the only unanimous choice on the National Basketball Association all-rookie team announced today by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Also chosen for the ninth annual team, selected by the 17 NBA coaches, were Sidney Wicks of Portland, Austin Carr of Cleveland, Phil Chenier of Baltimore and Clifford Ray of Chicago.

Smith, a 7-foot center, was fifth among the league's re-bounders with an average of 15.2 recoveries per game. He averaged 17.3 points per game.

Celtics to San Diego?

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald Traveler says in a copy-righted story that the new owners of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association "are a group of San Diego businessmen, and they intend to seek NBA permission to move the Celts from Boston to San Diego."

The newspaper said the Celtics president and general manager, Arnold "Red" Auerbach, met with the new owners Thursday night in San Diego.

Auerbach has fought past attempts to move the team from Boston, and said many times he would quit if the team was moved.

At the same time, however, the Herald Traveler reported that E.E. "Woody" Erdman of Trans-National Communications, Inc., of New York said the sale of the Celtics by Investors Funding Corp. to a group headed by an unidentified New York lawyer would be illegal.

Erdman was quoted as saying that ownership of the Celtics reverted to Trans-National under a recent federal court ruling in New York. The newspaper said Erdman has sent that information, quoting the court's 21-page decision, to Auerbach and to NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Padres Change Field Manager, Still Lose

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I hope we're not all fired."

That was Don Zimmer's first reaction when he and fellow San Diego coaches Roger Craig and Bob Skinner, out playing golf Wednesday morning, were told that Padres General Manager E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi wanted to see them.

Their jobs, however, were safe. It was Preston Gomez, the Padres' field manager, who got the axe. And it was Zimmer who got his job.

"I've always wanted to be a major league manager," said Zimmer, who went from the Dodgers' world championship club of 1955 in Brooklyn and 1959 in Los Angeles to become a charter member of the bumbling New York Mets in the course of his 23 seasons in professional ball.

"But I never expected it would happen like this," Zimmer added.

Whether he expected what happened Thursday night, though is debatable. It wasn't very different from what has happened pretty regularly to the Padres since their inception—with Gomez at the helm—back in 1969.

What happened is that they lost 4-3 to the Mets. It was San Diego's sixth setback in seven games while, for the Mets, home runs by Rusty Staub and Jerry Grote paved the way to victory No. 6 in a row.

In the only other games on Thursday's abbreviated National League schedule, Cincinnati slipped past Pittsburgh 5-4, Philadelphia topped San Francisco 7-6 and Montreal outlasted Los Angeles 7-5. The American League was idle.

Cincinnati in general, and Joe Morgan in particular, literally stole its victory against the Pirates.

With the game deadlocked 3-3 in the ninth inning, Morgan led off with a walk and promptly swiped second. So Pittsburgh gave Bobby Tolan an intentional walk—but he and Morgan responded with a double steal.

And after Tony Perez was also purposely passed to load the bases with one out, Ted Uhlaender, an off-season acquisition from Cleveland, got his first National League hit, a run-scoring single. Denis Menke then hit a sacrifice fly that proved to be the Reds' winning run.

Greg Luzinski's fourth home run of the season and the Phillies' fourth of the game snapped a ninth-inning tie and led to the Giants' downfall.

Don Money had a pair and Deron Johnson added one for Philadelphia while Dave Kingman ripped his fifth of the year for San Francisco.

Ron Hunt and Ken Singleton, with three hits apiece, paced a 16-hit Montreal assault that enabled the Expos to snap a three-game losing spin and stay within a game of the first-place Mets in the East. The Dodgers, despite Steve Garvey's homer, slipped half a game back of idle Houston and into second place in the West.

Hold Your Peace Must Prove Self

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Riva Ridge's only slightly tarnished crown back at its sparkling best, it's now Hold Your Peace's turn to prove his mettle as a pretender to the throne in the 98th Kentucky Derby.

Riva Ridge, the pride of Mrs. John Tweddy's Meadow Stable, made simple work of Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes, the final prep at more than a mile for the May 6 Derby at Louisville.

With jockey Ron Turcotte merely going along for the ride, last season's 2-year-old champion galloped to a four-length victory over a field of 10 other Derby nominees.

The next step toward Derby day is Saturday's Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs, when Flamingo winner Hold Your Peace has the same job as Riva Ridge—to prove a defeat in the Everglades was a fluke.

It was Head of the River, also bound for the Derby this year, who won the Everglades in the slop while Hold Your Peace was second, beaten 3½ lengths, and Riva Ridge was fourth.

But the camps of both horses had believable excuses. Riva Ridge was pinned to the rail early and couldn't get to the front while Hold Your Peace was one of those doing the pinning and waited too late to make his move.

Jockey Turcotte made sure Riva Ridge wasn't landlocked again in the Blue Grass, a 1½-mile test that has produced seven of the past dozen Derby winners.

Going from the outside post position, he moved up quickly at the break, leveling off in third position until the final half mile, when he turned the son of First Landing loose and went to the front.

Forrest Linday's Sensitive Music, also a late closer, finished second, 3½ lengths in front of W. C. Robinson Jr.'s Thurlow Square with Introductory, recent purchase of Corbin Robertson, fourth.

Nicklaus Shakes Off Injury

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Nicklaus shrugged off the effects of a minor hand injury today as he began a delayed defense of his title in the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

"It's no big deal," Nicklaus said of the injury to the forefinger on his right hand.

There was a slight dislocation of the finger, Nicklaus said he sustained the injury when the shaft of his driver shattered after he got off a terrific drive on the 16th hole of the final round last Sunday in the Tournament of Champions.

"I think I may have a little tiny piece of the shaft in there, but it doesn't bother me," said the 32-year-old Nicklaus, the heavy favorite to win his third consecutive title in the Byron Nelson Classic.

"I'm not going to do anything about it," he said. "It'll work out in time."

The first round was scheduled for today when Thursday's play was washed out by an early morning thunderstorm. Showers continued all day and made the 7,031 yard, par 70 Preston Trail Golf Club course unplayable.

The schedule now calls for a single round today and Saturday with the final 36 holes set for Sunday.

Should another day's play be rained out—more showers were expected today—officials almost certainly would have to extend the tournament through Monday.

Nicklaus, winner of three titles and more than $153,000 this season, was heavily favored even though the field of 144 was extremely strong.

Among the standouts are Lee

Trevino, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Australian Bruce Crampton. None has yet won this season but Crampton has had a remarkable record with eight finishes of seventh or better.

Being Other Sister Is a Real Drag

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Being just "the other sister" can become a drag, especially if your name is Marilyn Cochran and you're rated one of the best female skiers in the world.

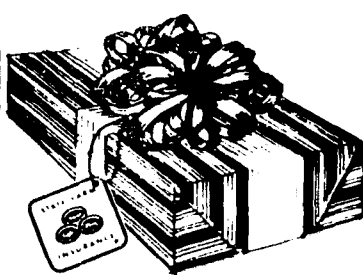

"Sure, it would be more fun if some of these things were happening to me," Marilyn said after watching her kid sister crowned U.S. Skier of the Year Thursday, "but we're all proud of Barbara Ann. We just say it's another one for the family."

Barbara Ann, 21, received the Coronet Trophy as a reward for her ladies' slalom triumph in the Sapporo Olympics—the first U.S. gold medal in skiing in 20 years. The award was presented by a brandy distiller on the basis of a poll of ski writers.

Destroyer In for Repairs

MANILA (AP) — The destroyer Higbee, hit by a North Vietnamese bomb in the Gulf of Tonkin over a week ago, arrived Tuesday at the U.S. Naval Base at Subic Bay for repairs, a Navy spokesman said today.
The frigate Worden, which arrived at Subic April 19 for repairs, left Subic Wednesday, the spokesman said. The Worden was hit by two antiradar missiles accidentally fired by a U.S. plane, the Navy said earlier.

BE PARTNERS WITH GOD SUPPORT HIS CHURCH

ah, yes! GOD Lives

We live in a wonderful world full of purpose and values. All this requires a Purposer, a Creator. The more we discover the universe, the more we are sure there is a creative artist at work. Visit the mountains, stand by the sea, witness the storm, and we become aware of a power greater than man. It is God and He is not dead as the man said. The sun rises in a pattern and the stars obey a scheme. We bow to the law of gravity and enjoy a world controlled by dependable systems. We believe in natural law . . . God's law. Without a great creative power we could not have had Moses, Mohammed, Buddha and Jesus Christ. When we put Creative Power, Wisdom and Righteousness together, belief in God is the result. He is at the controls. God is not dead.

Moon Flight "High Drama"

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—The Apollo 16 moon flight was high drama and fun to watch but, said Elizabeth Mattingly, "I never believed 12 days could be so long."

Dottie Duke agreed. "I really did enjoy it, but I'm glad it's all over," she said.

Perhaps Suzy Young felt the same way. But if so, she wasn't saying. She has not been seen here or heard from since the launch of Apollo 16 two weeks ago.

The astronauts returned to earth Thursday, zipping home from the moon to a pinpoint splashdown and a swift recovery from the choppy waters of the South Pacific.

"It was indescribable," said Mrs. Mattingly after watching via television as the billowing parachutes lowered the tiny space capsule into the sea.

"Red, white and blue, that's what it was," said Mrs. Duke.

She touched briefly on the key phases of the mission such as the launch, the landing and the lunar liftoff, but concluded that the high point was chatty Charlie Duke himself.

Pryor in Strong Attack on McClellan's Vote Record

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor delivered Thursday night what was perhaps his strongest attack to date on Sen. John L. McClellan's voting record and performance, referring to it as a "somewhat frightening, tragic novel."

Pryor, one of three Democrats opposing McClellan's bid for re-election in the Maz 30 primary, told a crowd of more than 2,000 at a rally here that he wanted to "throw a little light on the 30-year record" of McClellan.

Pryor also challenged McClellan to tell how successful he has been as a businessman during his 30 years in the Senate.

"I call on him to explain why, four months after the Senate Public Works Committee authorized a study of a dam on the Mulberry River, he joined in the purchase of 2,700 acres on the Mulberry," Pryor said. "I call on him to explain why he helped arrange for the First National Bank to participate with the Federal Housing and Urban Development Department in the financing of Maumelle New Town while he was a director of that bank.

"Just a few months ago, the senator sat on the Board of Directors of and owned 6,600 shares of stock in that bank valued at more than $180,000," Pryor said. "Does he still own this stock, as he does in many other banks in Arkansas, while he sits as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee?"

Pryor said that beginning in the early 1940s, the "people of Arkansas have been forced to vote through Sen. McClellan against veterans benefits, education, aid for needy and hungry children, tax reform."

"We have been forced, through the vote of our senator, to cast a ballot for increased taxes for hardworking, tax-paying citizens and giant tax loopholes for the wealthy," Pryor said.

He said McClellan voted against allowing soldiers in uniform to participate in the 1944 presidential election, against providing a housing allowance for maimed veterans of World War II, against automatic promotions and pay allowances for prisoners of war in World War II while they were POWs.

Pryor told the crowd that by casting their vote through McClellan, "you have voted...against closing the tax loopholes and against taxing corporate dividends...not to reduce your taxes, against raising your Social Security benefits, against a decent living wage — and as late as 1971, casting your vote five out of six times against education."

Pryor said that the votes he pointed out were "just a representative sampling, a critique of a very long book."

"You can't tell a book by its cover," Pryor said. "We can enjoy the cover of a book for its worth, but it's what's behind and inside that deceptive cover that really tells the tale..."

"It is time for the citizens of Arkansas to go beyond that cover and read the book itself. And then let the people decide if they can allow the senior senator to write a redundant postscript to a somewhat frightening, tragic novel."

May Combine Boards

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Thursday he was seriously considering proposing that the state Plant Board, the Soil and Water Conservation Commission and the Livestock and Poultry Commission be combined into a state Department of Agriculture.

The governor also said that because the legislature last year closed some tax loopholes and wrote other reforms into the tax laws, tying the tax structure to growth in the state's economy, no new general revenue tax will be required of the 1973 General Assembly.

Bumpers made the remarks at a meeting of members of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation. Three other Democratic gubernatorial candidates and Republican candidate Len E. Blaylock also spoke. State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, a Democratic candidate, was represented by an aide.

The governor told the farmers that he was opposed to exempting agricultural chemicals and fertilizer from the state sales tax. He said he feared that exempting the products would trigger attempts to exempt other items from state taxation.

Bumpers said he was committed strongly to the development of rural Arkansas and that there must be a balance among agriculture, manufacturing and tourism in the state's economy.

He said he expected that Arkansas would enjoy unprecedented economic growth in the next decade. To prepare for it, he said, he had created a sub-cabinet land use group to screen prospective industry to see if the particular industry would harm the environment.

Mack Harbour of Paragould told the federation that he did not support the creation of a state Agriculture Department at this time. He also said the state should look at the possibility of a bond issue to pay for a road building program and indicated that he opposed an increase in the gasoline tax to finance highway improvements.

Harbour, who is administrator of a Paragould hospital, said he would see that agriculture's interests were represented in pollution control programs. He said the state had to tackle the pollution problem, but that it also must be "sensible" and not impose regulations that would "put the farmer out of business."

Blaylock said his record as state Welfare commissioner during the four-year administration of Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller showed he could govern effectively.

He said that the Welfare Department during his tenure increased benefits by 50 per cent without a major tax increase and no major addition to the Welfare fund. Blaylock said that when he left office, $6.8 million was left in the Welfare treasury and had been programmed for Welfare benefits, but he said Bumpers spent the money for other purposes.
